

OVERVIEW

AMAG Technology is the industry leader in providing enterprise-class security management systems worldwide. Our products operate in the most demanding environments and provide access control, IP video, alarm monitoring, intrusion detection in addition to much more. With over 40 years of experience, AMAG has the proven ability to provide systems and services to meet a wide-range of applications for customers in private industry and the public sector. To enhance the capabilities of our core products, we partner with industry leading companies to offer top-tier products that ensure compatibility and compliance to federal, state and local governments.

SERVICES

AMAG has made it easy to deploy the Symmetry Security Management System by offering a comprehensive and easily deployable suite of products and services.

First, working with experts with over 30 years experience on MDI products, we provide an initial assessment to verify the existing system. Based on these findings, we then design a complete retrofit solution for current generation, IP-centric components which include network infrastructure, servers, computers, panels, readers and monitoring points. Next, we assist your procurement department, with issuing an RFP to guarantee competitive pricing. Then, working with your selected vendor, we provide onsite support to project manage, commission and fully test the system for compliance. Last, but not least, we provide onsite education. This training is tailored to your specific needs and ensures you maximize all of the robust functionality and features of your Symmetry system.

Simply put, AMAG Technology will seamlessly guide you through the complicated process of completely overhauling your system cost-effectively, with no downtime, on schedule and on budget

With a complete range of security management modules, powerful computer choices, IP video, storage and fault tolerant solutions, an AMAG Security Management System is the right choice for any application.
